I based the imagery on a description of the legend of Camosun by the late Elder Jimmy Fraser of Songhees (see link below). Fraser explains that Hayls (the Transformer) was traveling with Raven and Mink when he changed Camosun and her grandfather into stone. So I used the imagery of Raven on the back and Mink on the front on the canoe to represent the transformation of Camosun – the central figure. This arrangement also alluded to the definition of the name Camosun [paraphrase] "where waters meet and transform". By having a flying animal on one side, and an terrestrial/aquatic animal on the other, the Camosun figure becomes the space where these two different energies meet and result in transformation. – Dylan Thomas
